SPACE TO EXPAND IDEAS

Part of the National Register of Historic Places, the century-old Historic Federal Courthouse has been artfully transformed into Le Méridien Tampa.

Decades ago, what were once judges chambers and courtrooms now serve as guest accommodations, and each one of the hotel's 130 guest rooms and suites is still uniquely different. From select suites with floor-to-ceiling windows and 18 Ft / 5.49 M ceiling heights to rooms with beveled glass on top of the entry doors, original architectural features blend seamlessly with state-of-the-art technology.

Le Méridien Tampa features a 24-hour fitness center, a full-service business center and a central location in the heart of the city's business, arts and entertainment district. The hotel is close to such cultural destinations as the Tampa Museum of Art, where hotel guests will enjoy complimentary admission through the use of a special voucher provided in-room. Also nearby, you'll find Channelside Bay Plaza, a popular retail, dining and entertainment complex, the Tampa Convention Center and corporate offices for Holland & Knight, JPMorgan Chase and other companies. The Amalie Arena, host to numerous sporting events and concerts, as well as Ybor City, home to noteworthy history, shopping and nightlife, are both just a few minutes away.

SOPHISTICATED SERVICES

The hotel's heritage as a courthouse is particularly evident in its function spaces that historically served as courtrooms, but have now been repurposed into elegant meeting rooms. The hotel provides more than 4,000 F2 / 371.61 M2 of total event space, all architecturally and historically unique. Yet every meeting room has been modernized to ensure successful gatherings.
